Ohio Congressional Districts

Let's jump ahead to 1981-82. During the decade Democrats have managed to pick up three seats, following the retirement of Republican incumbents. Ohio's congressional delegation must go from 23 to 21. Again, power is divided at the Statehouse, with a Democrat house and a Republican governor and senate. The deal is for each party to give up one seat. That's easy for the Republicans because Clarence Brown is retiring in CD 7 to run for governor, and John Ashbrook is retiring in CD 17 to run for U.S. Senator.
